VIDEO CAPSULE ENDOSCOPY PREPARATION GUIDELINES

GENERAL

- During the Video Capsule Endoscopy Test
 - Video Capsule Endoscopy takes approximately 8 hours to 12 hours depending on the ordered length of your test. The GI Lab technician will explain the test to you and ask you several questions related to your GI symptoms. This test requires no anesthesia or sedation, and allows you to remain ambulatory during this test, but you should avoid exercising and heavy lifting.
 - You will be asked to swallow a video capsule, which will be carried through your gastrointestinal tract by muscle movements in your intestines. A data recorder will need to be worn around your waist for the entire test to capture the results. The capsule will record approximately 60,000 color images during your test, which will be reviewed by your physician.
- After the Video Capsule Endoscopy Test
 - After your test, it may take 24 hours for the capsule to be passed normally through your bowel movements and then is safely flushed down the toilet. Most likely, you will be unaware of the capsule's passage. You will not need to return this device to your physician's office as it is disposable. Unless instructed differently by your physician, you may resume normal activities, eat, and resume taking all of your normal medications.
 - Your results will be available within 7-10 business days after your procedure. If you do not receive your results via telephone or MyChart within 7-10 business days, please call your doctor's office.

MEDICATIONS

- Take all of your regular medications as scheduled with a sip of water, unless any modifications have already been made by your physician to include blood thinners, diabetes medications, or any other medications.
