NOVEMBER 13 2020

This department is so professionally oriented. All staff members are pleasant and considerate and Dr Berry shows sincere interest in spending time listening to my concerns, health and well-being

NOVEMBER 12 2020

The reason for my score is because of the way he explained my test results, took time with me and explained my options. That was why I wanted the second opinion and what I expected from my doctor.

NOVEMBER 12 2020

The visit with Dr. Berry was for a second opinion for a stress test I had in September with a Rush Copley cardiologist. The cardiologist I was seeing at Copley no longer practices there and I ended up with the one I've been seeing since he left in 2019. When my stress test results came back, the other cardiologist didn't explain them to me and she is hard for me to understand. At my follow up visit the only thing I got out of the visit was a repeated question of "was I having any chest pain, are you sure you're not having any chest pain" and that I needed to have an angiogram. It sounded urgent, yet wasn't planned on being scheduled until later this month. This confused me and I wanted a second opinion. This led me to Dr. Berry. Dr. Berry was easy to understand, explained things well, and went over options. While he didn't totally disagree with getting the angiogram, he didn't feel it was necessary as the outcome would not make a difference if the artery was unblocked or left alone. This is what my previous cardiologist told me. I felt comfortable with his approach, although if he felt it was necessary, I would rather have Dr. Berry perform the procedure. I'm glad I obtained the second opinion of Dr. Berry and decided to switch my cardiac care over to him. Since most of my care for diabetes, etc. is done by NW doctors and co-ordination would be easier between providers, this was why I decided to change. I thank Dr. Berry for taking the time with me and explaining things, and not being alarmist. I would recommend him to anyone that needed a cardiologist.

My first time meeting Dr Berry as a referral from my nephrologist for a restoration of blood to my kidney as it was explained to me by my nephrologist that that a cardiologist is the one who works with arteries to put stents in. Dr Berry not only explained things , he allowed my spouse in with us so my spouse could ask questions that I may not think of asking. His staff and he made me feel extremely less anxious and I felt as though trust was established . He seemed very professional and calmed my anxiety I had. Felt before meeting him
