SEPTEMBER 4 2019

dr Nugent reviewed my chart prior to our first meeting, was knowledgeable on my concerns, and realistic about my situation, I have a thyroid issue which has made symptoms difficult. . She was very easy to talk with, and concerned for my well being. not only do I have a plan going forward, she encouraged me to reach out with an update in 6-8 weeks. told me the best way to communicate, and said to call her nursing assistant if I had a question, or needed anything while she was in clinic. I felt HEARD!!!! Grateful to find a doctor who spent genuine time with me, and validated my symptoms.

MARCH 13 2018

Dr. Nugent demonstrated real concern and compassion in relation to the recent loss of my mother and the impact that this loss is having on my life and on my health.

MARCH 11 2018

Dr. Colleen Nugent is outstanding. I am extremely impressed with her ability to synthesize what may seem like unrelated symptoms/situations and finding solutions. I am also impressed with her willingness to direct me to the appropriate resource/specialist AND work with that person so I don't feel so alone in trying to coordinate my own care. The model of today is to put the patient in charge of his/her own care and many times that makes no sense - the patient doesn't have the education or distance to make appropriate decisions and where to go for what. There's nothing worse than hearing "you could do this or you could do that". While it is good to hear the options, I really need to come to conclusion with next steps WITH my doctor, not to be sent off to figure it out by myself. Dr. Nugent works with you and makes you feel that she IS your advocate. That's how it SHOULD be.
