OCTOBER 28 2020

Dr. Bloomgarten takes the time to answer all questions and explains tests and procedures regarding the patient's circumstances. I now have a better picture of the type of treatments I may need. She put my mind at ease and at the same time was forthright.

OCTOBER 28 2020

SEE ABOVE. That answer applies to my assessment of Dr. Eve Bloomgarten. I also would like to mention Alexander"Alex in radiology. I had an ultrasound performed by him in Glenview on October 13, 2020, in preparation for my October 20 appt. with Dr. Bloomgarten. He began by apologizing for keeping me waiting a bit, then explained that he wanted to take extra time to review my earlier ultrasounds, which he mentioned were complex, so that he could assure accuracy - not only for his own satisfaction, but also to provide good results for Dr. Bloomgarten, whom he described as a meticulous clinician. He was extremely courteous and respectful and explained the procedure as it progressed. I thanked him for this. I find this mutual respect a valuable asset for patients, their care, and their confidence.

ums. I find this mutual respect a valuable asset for patients, their care, and their confidence.

OCTOBER 28 2020

I have heard members of the Endocrinology faculty present at the Women's Health Research Institute luncheons and was impressed on each occasion. Dr. Eve Bloomgarden is my connection to NM Endocrinology. She has consistently followed my health concerns and needs since I began working with her, with intelligence and insight. She is meticulous about educating me about the science of my post thyroidectomy condition AND she is a caring, attentive, respectful person/physician, as well. I have learned to depend upon her counsel and feel engaged with her in my own care. Her staff of medical and non-medical personnel also demonstrate evidence of mutual respect for colleagues, which enhances the experience.

OCTOBER 26 2020

Smart,nice md
