SEPTEMBER 3 2020

Appointment times are great, the location is close, the office space is new and clean, and the physicians are great.

SEPTEMBER 3 2020

Dr Patel seems technically competent and was able to explain what is going on with my knees. I specifically wanted someone with a sports injury background, which he has. It's not a lack of empathy, exactly, but the framing of how certain things are phrased, like, 'your days of running that far are probably behind you.' That's extremely devastating to an athlete

SEPTEMBER 3 2020

Front desk coordination is clunky. On the last visit, I expressed that I was receiving phone call reminders for appointments after having responded affirmatively to the email reminders. The staff had no idea about the email reminders and said those systems were not coordinated. It is a small thing to be sure, but it didn't inspire confidence.
